

FREE Proficient Pilot Seminar - Aviation Medical Considerations

Whether you're just starting the amazing journey of becoming a pilot or are already spending copious amounts of time soaring the skies from the left seat of a jet, the topic of aeromedical factors is always an important (if not critical) component of your aviation lifestyle. So, please bring along a friend and/or family member, get your aviation medical questions ready to go, and come join us for an informative evening with Dr. Greenlee. And, yes, we'll even have "diet" pizza on the menu - maybe.

Directions: This free safety seminar will be hosted by Sweet Aviation in the terminal building at the Smith Field Airport in Fort Wayne, Indiana.

A message from the National FAASTeam Manager
